ST. PETERSBURG, FL--- Residents who have lost jobs and students who are missing meals from school will enjoy a hot meal at the Mattie Williams Neighborhood Center in Safety Harbor on Thursday, May 14th. Other families affected by the COVID-19 closure of schools and workplaces can eat out at food trucks the following three Fridays at other community agencies.

The Kind Mouse food pantry is organizing Food Trucks Filling Tummies, and 800 meals will be covered by Realty One Group Sunshine in St. Petersburg. The Kind Mouse will also distribute hundreds of bags containing nonperishable foods that equal three meals for children at each Food Truck event.

Kind Mouse and its community partners have been distributing food staples for clients in need to eat at home since COVID-19 closed schools and workplaces. The following agencies will notify clients that they have the opportunity to have a meal from Maggie on the Move Food Truck.

- Mattie Williams Neighborhood Center, Safety Harbor
- New Hope Baptist Church, St. Petersburg
- Tampa Bay Network to End Hunger's Referral Partner St. Pete Housing Authority, St. Petersburg
- Enoch Youth Farm - Gospel Ministries, St. Petersburg

"Food Trucks Filling Tummies will offer families a day to get outside and enjoy a good, hot meal without cooking at home. That's something we all need once in a while," said Gina Wilkins, CEO and Founder of The Kind Mouse food pantry.

Maggie on the Move offers Mediterranean fare.

"Realty One Group Sunshine is committed to bringing a ray of hope to our community," said Lisa Vickers, a leading agent with Realty One Sunshine Group.
